

Camperdown Botanic Garden

with Janet O'Hehir

For the past 12 years Janet has been leading a community group in its campaign to rejuvenate and protect the Camperdown Botanic Gardens and Arboretum, one of the many botanic gardens which are a special part of the heritage of many of the large and small towns throughout Victoria. She is particularly interested in conserving the purpose of those gardens as places of beauty for their local communities and visitors, and in the functions they can fulfil in enthusing and educating the public about plants.

Janet has a Masters degree in Urban Horticulture from the University of Melbourne. She is a member of the International Dendrology Society and represents the Camperdown Botanic Gardens and Arboretum Trust in relevant networks including Botanic Gardens Australia and New Zealand, the Australian Garden History Society, the Australian Association of Friends of Botanic Gardens and the Plant Trust.

Come along and hear from a speaker with a passion for the heritage of botanic gardens.
