

Cacti and Succulents

with Sue Parker, Ballarat Cactus and Succulent Society

Sue Parker is a President of the Ballarat Cactus and Succulent Society. The society promotes interest in cacti and succulents through community events, workshops and shows, and foster a community of enthusiasts providing expertise on care and cultivation.

Come and explore the wonderful world of cacti and succulents. These plants are mostly slow growing, extremely hardy and drought tolerant. With their unique and striking forms, coupled with the stunning flowers on some species, even the most challenged gardener can grow something special and wonderful. From larger outdoor varieties to smaller plants that can be displayed in hanging baskets or dish gardens you will find a plant to fall in love with.

This event is a must for cacti and succulent enthusiasts and those who might just be starting out with these magnificent plants. You can see many varieties of cactus and succulents throughout the Melton Botanic Garden.
